Miss Bindergarten Gets Ready for Kindergarten

JOSEPH SLATE
illustrated by ASHLEY WOLFF

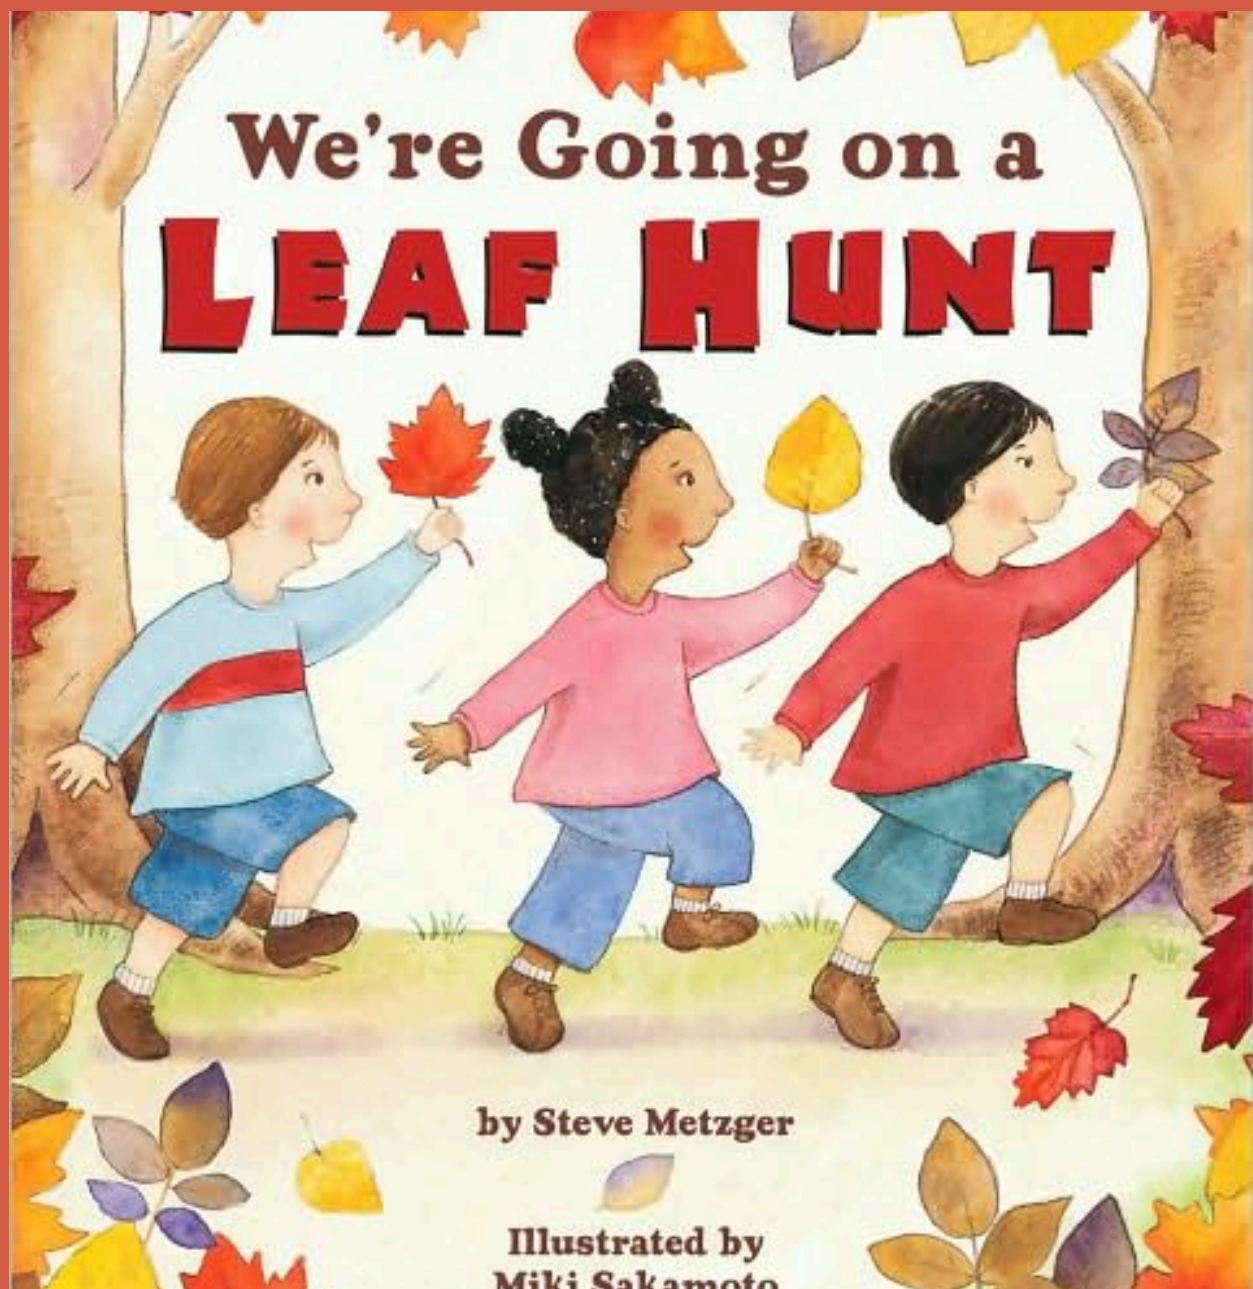

This adorable beginning of kindergarten book tells a story of a kindergarten teacher and her students all getting ready for the first day of school. It is part of a series of Ms. Bindergarten books! It is also an ABC book, practicing letter recognition and sounds.

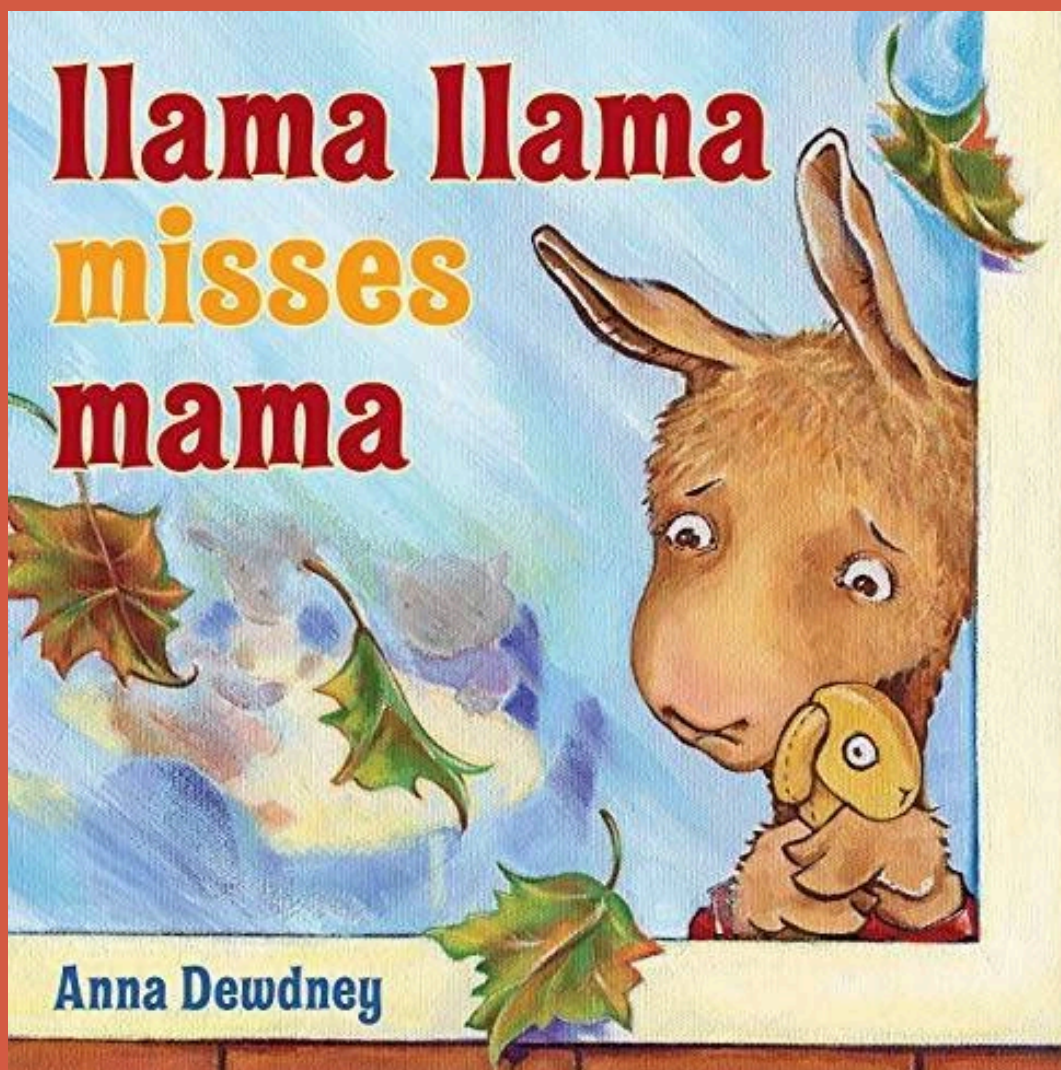

This festive fall book follows an apple tree through each season, from bare branches in winter to full apples ready to pick in autumn.

It's a great way to connect science and literacy, and is easy to extend into a fun family trip to an orchard, or to make apple sauce or apple pie together.

A play on "We're Going on a Bear Hunt", this book has great rhythm and connects some science in there too! The children collect different types of leaves from various trees. It's rich in vocabulary and has a predictable pattern so your little reader will be able to join right in!

Part of the “Llama Llama” series, this book is all about missing Mom on the first day of school. It’s a great way to open up a conversation about the first few days in a new school and how to deal with these big feelings! Extension: make a little charm or picture for one another as a reminder that you will see each other at the end of the school day.
